

Elwell Family Food Center

The newly-renovated and spacious Elwell Family Food Center is a multi-functional building with dual entrances, dual restrooms (with exterior and interior access), an enhanced concession area and natural lighting. Formerly known as the Iowa Tourism Building, its open area suits a variety of activities including meetings, fundraisers, parties, weddings and small trade shows.

The building houses the food department during the Iowa State Fair. With nearly 900 classes of competition, it's the largest food department of any state fair in the country.
